Our COVID-19 Member-to-Member Resource Center

As of May 1, 2020

Controls, Service & Engineering Co., Inc. (CSE)

Even beyond the current circumstances we find ourselves in, viruses, bacteria, mold spores, VOC's, chemicals and odors each take a toll on our health and wellness, as well as our productivity. The REME HALO air purification system is designed to reduce contaminants at their source, and it can be installed easily into any forced air system. By utilizing ionized hydroperoxides, the system has been laboratory tested and proven to remove 98% of the germs found in a sneeze before they can travel three feet.

CSE, a commercial HVAC company serving South Central PA, has installed 50 REME HALO air purification systems. They are offering special pricing to members of The Manufacturers' Association. For more information on the REME HALO system, visit their website at <https://cse2222.com/air-purification/>

Coulson Technologies

Coulson is offering free 25 minute private business consultations during the COVID-19 crisis, to discuss how to run your business remotely, via a phone call or zoom video conference or to discuss any technical questions. MKT Metal Manufacturing

Antimicrobial Coated Duct

Silver is widely used in a wide variety of products today, because of its natural antimicrobial properties. Without harmful toxins, silver has the ability to effectively suppress the growth of mold and bacteria. Due to these qualities, an epoxy coating was created with infused silver ions and is applied to the surface of sheet metal duct products. Utilizing silver in the epoxy coating provides microbial and mold suppression, without the use of adverse chemicals. This is useful in health care, pharma and food environments.
